May 14th-17th, 2015 May 28th-31st, 2015

Join Spring Creek Ranch's experienced Naturalist and become intimately immersed in the wild of the world's first national park—Yellowstone.

In spring, Yellowstone is teeming with wildlife and activity. Bears are awakening with cubs from their winter slumber, birds are returning from their winter migrations, and newborns are emerging for their first spring. Your experienced Naturalist will guide you through Grand Teton and Yellowstone National Parks, providing insight around every corner that will enrich your appreciation of the natural happenings around you. You will journey through the most select landmarks and vistas of the parks and search for predators in Yellowstone's famous Lamar Valley. Perfect for photographers, wildlife fanatics, and those who wish to experience the park intimately, without crowds. This package offers a small group experience, high quality interpretation, and first-class food and lodging.

SPRING CREEK RANCH

SAMPLE ITINERARY

 Routes may vary depending on seasonal road closures*

Day 1

After arriving in Jackson via air or ground transportation, join our Resident Naturalist in the Ranch House for a welcome reception and presentation about the predators and history of Yellowstone. Followed by a three course dinner at The Granary restaurant.

Day 2

Depart for an overnight trip of Yellowstone exploration! Breakfast at the Granary at 7:30am, leaving Spring Creek Ranch around 8:30am. Enjoy a safari through Grand Teton National Park to the south gate of Yellowstone. Continue the trek north towards Lamar, hugging the shores of Yellowstone Lake and stopping at the Grand Canyon of Yellowstone along the way. You will be traveling in a comfortable vehicle that is ideal for wildlife watching, with access to snacks, drinks, and rest stops. Dusk will be spent in Lamar Valley, where we will search for the wolves, bears, and other mega fauna that famously inhabit this area. These predators are most active during dusk and dawn, which is why we'll be searching most attentively at these times. After night falls, we will drive to our comfortable accommodations in Cooke City, MT for a restful night just outside of Yellowstone's border.

Day 3

Following an early continental breakfast we will travel once again to Lamar Valley, positioning ourselves in this rich area of activity during the first light of day. We will continue our focus here until lunch, when we will refuel with a hearty restaurant meal. Our journey will continue through the remainder of Yellowstone's grandeur, with stops along the way. We will aim to be back at Spring Creek Ranch at 6:30pm. Dinner at the Granary is included for this evening along with lodging .

Day 4

Enjoy breakfast at The Granary at your leisure. Checkout at 11am. Feel free to extend your stay!
